

UPPER EAST SIDE GALLERY NIGHT

Thursday, September 24, 2026

11am–9pm

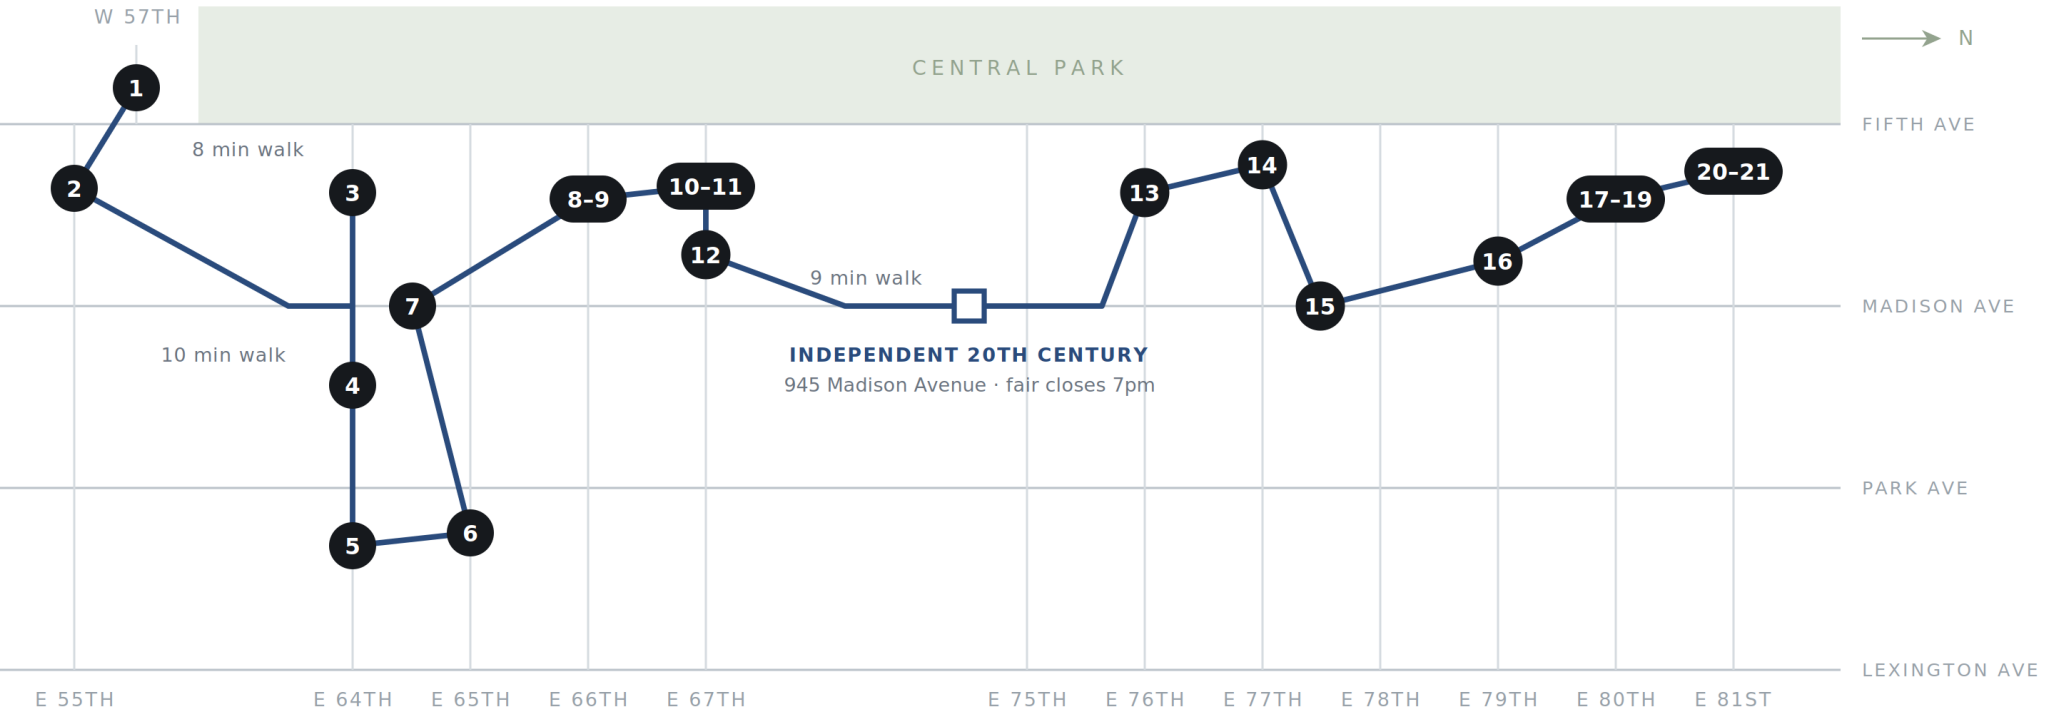

Organized by Ben Brown Fine Arts with participating galleries

Ben Brown Fine Arts is delighted to announce the first Upper East Side Gallery Night, taking place on September 24, 2026 to celebrate the opening of New York's fall art week. Twenty-one Upper East Side galleries will participate for a day and evening of exhibitions and conversation across the neighborhood.

Galleries will keep normal hours and extend them until 9pm. Independent 20th Century opens the same morning at the Breuer Building and The Armory Show opens at the Javits Center. With Independent closing at 7pm, the night gives collectors, curators and visitors in town for the fairs a reason to stay uptown into the evening.

The night brings together long-established and newer spaces whose programs range across modern, post-war and contemporary art. It is intended to introduce wider audiences to the density and variety of the Upper East Side gallery district, and to open the neighborhood up for an evening built around exhibitions rather than appointments.
